To a protty face - SPANDARD she added pleasant disposition and winning ways, and she became the fast tavorite of Mr. Barnum as well as of all of which I will sell as LOW as I can at the public. When Tom Thumb was married to Lavinia Warren the general opinion was that Commodore Nutt I haps to so conduct my bulings as to merit would take Minnie for his bride; but a good share of the same in the future. the little Commodore had set his vanile affections on Lavinia, and his little heart was blighted when Gen. Thumb won her from him.

"Never mind, Commodore," the jovial Barnum said, "Minnie Warren is a better match for you. She is sounger than you, while Lavipia is several years older." "Thank you. sir," the Commodore said, stiffly, I would not marry the best woman living. I don't believe in momen, anyway.

Time lessened Commodore Nutt's grief, and he partly renewed his attentions to Miss Minnie. But after his tirst disappointment in love, it is saidhe became a first young man, and Minnie like a wise young lady, discouraged his addresses. A few years ago Barnum found an-
